The award was presented at Jenne's first Powering Partners Summit, held last month in Tucson, AZ. Jay Kamin, Vice President of Operations at NACR, was at the summit to accept the award from Jenne President and CEO Dave Johnson and LifeSize "Video Evangelist" Simon Dudley.

As one of the largest Avaya channel partners worldwide, NACR is a leading independent integrator of best-in-class communications, collaboration, and customer interaction solutions — delivering comprehensive sales, consultative, training, and technical support, as well as managed services, maintenance, and repairs. The company works closely with other leading technology innovators to integrate the latest hardware, software, and applications into end-to-end multivendor solutions for diverse business markets.

Jenne is a leading value-added distributor of IP telephony, audio and video conferencing, unified communications, and IT security products. LifeSize, a division of Logitech and a Platinum sponsor of the Jenne conference, is a world leader in high-definition video communications and telepresence.

"Video is a growing business, especially with the advent of unified communications, and NACR is honored to be recognized for achievement in this market space," said John Behnken, National Vice President of NACR. "We are also tremendously grateful to Jenne for always going the extra mile to support us in the sale of LifeSize solutions."

Jenne's summit gave its resellers and manufacturer partners the opportunity to network and share insight into the latest solutions, tools, and best practices available in the channel.
